

Madina Bissenova
Studio for Immediate Spaces, Sandberg Institute.

The reenactment of the performance by Vito Acconci the 'Following Piece', where he followed a randomly chosen person on a street until the person will enter the private, personal space. I will try to explore the experience of the performance by following the passers on a street and by certain moments swapping between these passers, from one to another.